Pastor Bob's Printed Blog

Dear friends...

Lately I've been feeling a bit nostalgic. Maybe it's the recent Christmas holiday. Maybe it's the natural introspection I've chosen to engage in following treatment for a minor skin cancer. Maybe it's parenthood. And maybe it's random. In any case, I've been feeling nostalgic.

It is perhaps this sense of nostalgia that has motivated me to spend some time considering the core of our Christian faith. Over the course of these last weeks, we have explored together "How to Be a Christian in 7 Easy Steps" based loosely on the book What's the Least I Can Believe and Still Be a Christian? By Marin Thielen. Beginning first with harmful elements in our tradition and history – elements that we can faithfully and thoughtfully consider and discard in light of a clearer understanding of God – we then continued to six core fundamentals of our faith: the greatest commandments, grace, God's work in the body of Christ, our call to participate in building God's kingdom on Earth, theodicy (the problem of evil), and eternal life.

Getting back to basics has been good for me, and I hope it's been helpful for you. Sometimes we need to go back and explore the core of something – even something we've been doing our entire life – and re-learn and re-vive and re-reflect. I hear sports announcers talk about going back to basics all the time, and it works in much more: art, music, cooking, etc.

In my earlier days of discovering my faith life, one of my favorite things was Shrove Tuesday. If it's a tradition you've enjoyed, I hope you'll consider participating in our Shrove Tuesday Pancake Dinner on February 28th between 5 pm and 7pm. If it hasn't been your tradition, I hope you'll consider starting a new one!

Another basic tradition that many of us have practiced takes place during the season of Lent. If you're not sure what Lent is, it's the season of forty days (not including Sundays) that lead us into Easter. Traditionally, these forty days symbolize both the forty years that the Israelites wandered in the wilderness after leaving Egypt, as well as the forty days that Jesus spent in the wilderness after being tempted. For Christians, Lent is an opportunity to grow in our understanding and experience of God by choosing to focus ourselves particularly on the divine. In our earliest history, this was done in part through prayer and fasting. In our more recent history, we might give up a small pleasure or indulgence or we might give up a bad habit. Some of my colleagues and friends will sometimes take on a good habit or practice. In all of these cases, the ultimate point is to take specific time to turn toward and focus on God.

As we enter into the season of Lent – technically beginning on March 1st with Ash Wednesday, and beginning in a practical sense on Sunday the 5th – we will begin a new series exploring what we collectively might give up for lent. During this time, we will consider:

- March 5 – Giving Up Control
- March 12 – Giving Up Expectations
- March 19 – Giving Up Superiority
- March 26 – Giving Up Enemies
- April 2 – Giving Up Our Lives
- April 9 (Palm Sunday) – Giving Up Popularity
- April 16 (Easter Sunday) – Giving Up Death

During this time, be on the lookout for additional ways to engage your spiritual self in this exploration. We hope to offer opportunity to study as well as ways to explore our sermon topics outside the worship experience. Sermon previews are already published each week on our website and through social media, and these tools and more are intended to help us journey together deeper into these thought-provoking areas of faith.

It is my hope that – by sharing these with you several weeks before we begin – we might plan to take this journey together. Whether we embark toward discovering our faith for the first time or we rediscover our faith through nostalgia and reflection, I am confident that we can find a profound awareness of our divine creator.

Grace and peace to you...

Pastor Bob

Ladies Day Out Lunch

The February Ladies Lunch will be at Panda Country (Clairemont Mesa at Genesee), Saturday, February 25. We will meet at 11:30 am.

I Love this place – the Cashew Nut Chicken is my fave. Lunch combo plates are affordable. I've never had a bad meal here. Plan to join us!

For more information, contact Dart, dartr@pbumc.org.

Shrove Tuesday Pancake Dinner

Please bring your family to join us at the church on the evening of Tuesday, February 28, for a pancake dinner to celebrate Shrove Tuesday. Shrove (or Fat) Tuesday is the traditional name for the day before Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. It is more colloquially known as Mardi Gras, which is simply Fat Tuesday in French. It gets its name from the custom of marking the day with feasting before the fasting season of Lent begins.

Want to know more? Come on down to find out! Come for dinner and fun activities any time between 5 and 7 pm. A jar will be available to receive donations to offset costs. We look forward to celebrating together!

Grace Notes

Younger Folks, do you like to sing?

PB UMC's young musicians are back in action with some big changes in store. First off, our name is getting an update! With our push to be inclusive to many ages, we are now going to be called the Grace Notes. Come join us in the choir room Sundays between services from 10:00-10:25 am. Everyone is welcome, whether you are in preschool or high school. It is not too late to join! Just be ready to have a good time learning some songs and singing with others.

Our name change is big news but before we move forward, we need to send a big thank you to Miss Vicki, our fearless leader for 45 years...wow! She has stepped back and will be greatly missed. Her leadership, energy, creativity and love were always the force keeping our group moving forward. We send her big hugs and look forward to seeing her in the front row cheering us on for future performances. Also a special shoutout to Jesse H. who has been our fantastic rehearsal accompanist for years. He has decided to use his talents elsewhere. We will miss him as well!

If you have any questions, please contact Liesl or Steve S.

We Reach Out to Others

Sunday School News

By Malea S.

We are so happy to welcome Vicki T. and Heide T. to our team of Sunday School teachers! This is a new adventure for Vicki, and she has teamed up with her daughter-in-law who has been on the regular rotation and served as a substitute teacher. So glad to have you!

I offer this quote that I think is appropriate at this time in our history (and I think "family" can include church family!):

"The responsibility rests on the family to solve our social problems. Youth search for security. They search for answers to be found only in a good home. No national or international treaty can bring peace. Not in legislative halls nor judicial courts will our problems be solved. From the hearthstones of the homes will come the answers to our problems." A Theodore Tuttle

Second Sunday Concerts

Point Loma Opera Theatre

It's time to gear up for our 2017 Second Sunday Concert Series. For starters, we will be hosting PLOT (Point Loma Opera Theatre) in the Sanctuary at 2:00 pm on February 12. PLOT is composed of award winning young talent from Point Loma Nazarene University under the direction of Dr. Craig Johnson. These dynamic singers will perform a short but enticing program of opera solos, duets, and ensemble pieces. The singers are extraordinary and are not to be missed.

In March, we will host the Iowa State Singers under the direction of Dr. James Rodde. Dr. Rodde is a high school chum of Ron J.. He is a talented conductor, directing and managing five choirs that are featured at choral music conferences across the nation. This concert will be held in partnership with our neighbor, St. Andrews By The Sea Episcopal Church on the THIRD Sunday of March. Dr. Rodde's group will be with us in the 9:00 am service on March 19, and will perform the concert at St. Andrews (just down the street on Thomas) at 2:00 pm the same day. We are looking forward to an amazing day of music.

Heartfelt Thanks to Prayers & Squares!

By Dart R.

Our talented ministry group that makes the prayer quilts recently made a beautiful pink baby girl blanket for a friend's newborn. Baby Olivia, "Lola", arrived early and was quite a surprise. My friend and I mentioned her to Florence S. and she said the group would be happy to make baby Lola a special prayer quilt! Many prayers were said on Lola's behalf, and she is now growing and thriving. So Awesome! What a blessing! Her family will cherish the baby blanket, and our church family is now connected to her family in a special way. I am certain our God is pleased.

Note: As we were going to press, Dart saw this post from the mother on Facebook:

"I have been so blessed this past year and I can't thank God enough!! Thru His eyes a church which my aunt visits in San Diego heard my story and decided they would make a quilt for my little girl. They make this quilts with love, hope and prayers and each knot in the quilt represents a prayer that was said for her. To the wonderful ministry who took time to make and pray for her, I will forever be grateful! Thank You Pacific Beach United Methodist Church."

Reflections from the Finance Team

Whew! After a grueling four-hour session in January, the Finance Team put together a balanced budget for 2017. The next step is approval by the Administrative Council. We are projecting income and expenses of $403,818. Yes, this is a small increase from last year, but our income projections are based more solidly on pledged income and much less on optimism. Thank you to the nameless donors who have stepped up their pledged income to continue our treasured ministries! Blessings on each of you.

Thank you, also, to the donors who stepped up their giving to help close out 2016 with a smaller loss than we would have seen. The December 2016 table is preliminary, because each year we closely review our books and make final corrections and adjustments before closing out the year. There may be a small change in the final income minus expenses, but no change to the big picture.

Continued care will be needed to hold to our 2017 budget. And Shoreline Services always needs any tips for grants or donations you can send our way. Here's to a new year!

Meet Judi Patterson From Our Voices of Praise

By Roving Reporter Marcia M.

I recently had lunch with Judi P. I am sharing a part of what I learned about her with you.

Judy retired from Grossmont College in 2000, where she taught English for 36 years. She told me, "I loved teaching, especially literature and creative writing."

When I asked her how she found out about PB UMC, she said, "I owe it all to Ron J. He became a vice principal at Grossmont. And unlike the stereotypical VP, he seemed more interested in art, music, and literature than in sports. He invited those of us in the English Department to attend a PB UMC piano/organ concert. I loved the concert, was warmly welcomed by everyone, and consequently decided to attend church. PB UMC definitely felt good to me, especially the singing at the beginning of the service. I immediately noticed Hope, who seemed especially joyful, and I decided I would love to sing in the choir with her. That's exactly what came to pass, and a few months later I joined PB UMC. And all because Ron cared enough to ask some of his colleagues to come to a concert at church. That's pretty amazing."

I asked her about being part of the choir. Judi said "Ron always emphasizes we are not merely 'performing.' Instead, we are ministering to the congregation. He reminds us to pronounce our consonants so the congregation understands the words we are singing." She added, "Each choir rehearsal ends with a prayer circle. We are almost a family, and are very supportive of each other."

When I asked if there was anything else she'd like to share with us, she told me, "I am currently learning to speak Italian. I love to read, walk, write, play the piano, go to the theatre, and spend time with my friends and family."

We are lucky to have a member like Judi, who is so much fun and who has so many talents.
